

ACADEMIC ADVISEMENT

Academic advisement is an essential component of an education at Clayton State University, and the university is committed to providing the individual advice and assistance that students need at every step of their degree programs. All graduate students are advised in their respective departments by the graduate program director and/or a designee. A list of Graduate Program Directors can be found at <http://www.clayton.edu/graduate/program-directors> (<https://www.clayton.edu/graduate/program-directors/>).
